Conclusion of the Fall Season over the Walnut Course.

It is the remark of those who have observed such things, that the meetings over the Nashville and Walnut Courses, have never been so well attended as this fall. A new interest seems to have been swakened in racing stock-and the breeding of horses generally. We certainly have never witnessed so large a crowd as was in attendance on Saturday to witness the three mile contest for the Club Purse of $600, between Whicheind, Henry Perritt, and Lodine. Although the morning was unpromising, the ladies were out in great numbers, and great regret was expressed that the rain which came up just as the horses started, forced them to seek shelter, and in a great degree interfered with their view of the exciting contest. In approaching a description of the exciting contest, we doubt our power to do it justice-it was a melange of ing, and will doubtless be found at our wharf well sustained efforts of speed, daring brushes, false storts and unfortunate accidents, both to horses

The Hartsville also left on Saturday for Pa and riders Before the first heat Whirlwind was the favorite by large odds against the field. Perritt had the track, Whirlwind drew the second place, and the little little tilley was thrown on the outside. They start well in the first heat, Perritt leading through the first mile-during the second mile Iodine brushed at him on the back stretch, and it was a gallant sight to see her press him to the second mile, neck and neck-entering the third mile, he took the lead again, and maintained it till coming in to the last half mile, when Whirheind brushed at him, and we think we never saw such a contest down the home stretch. Perritt passing under the string, however, a full length shead of Whirlwind. Iodine some two lengths behind. Time,
